CompanionLink

CompanionLink synchronizes CRM and contact management databases with the latest mobile devices. Core business data, including Contacts, Calendar, Tasks, and Memos, is synchronized two-ways. Refer to the graphic below for details on the specific platforms and data we support.

Introducing CompanionLink

Pioneers in sync

CompanionLink has been around since the era of Palm PDAs and dawn of CRM. They understand business productivity software and focus on keeping key data synchronized so you have access to it from any device you are using. The CompanionLink desktop app works with their DejaOffice mobile app, which is designed to hold rich CRM data that the device's built-in apps can't handle well.

CompanionLink addresses a common challenge that we all face – trying to manage islands of data spread across our mobile phones, Outlook and CRM systems – this important data not only includes our contacts, but also all of our activities, calendar, client history and notes.

CompanionLink keeps your data consistent across all of your devices, using your preferred sync method, giving you total data integrity, inherent back-ups, with easy access from PCs, iPads, Smartphones and pretty much any internet enabled device

- Sync contacts, calendar, notes, client history, and tasks
